Join us beginning Friday, March 23, at 9:30 a.m. through Sunday, March 25, at noon as hundreds of women and men gather in Virginia Beach to experience God’s promise to bind up broken hearts. The conference also includes interactive breakout sessions with gifted, compassionate guest speakers—who, through their relationships with Jesus Christ, have a message of hope and healing.

Keynote Speakers and Musicians

Linda Strom—Linda is co-founder of Discipleship Unlimited, a ministry that reaches out to the brokenhearted. Her book, Karla Faye Tucker: Set Free, was published in July 2000. Growing up with an alcoholic, abusive father and an emotionally unhealthy mother, Linda understands what it takes to bind up the brokenhearted. During 25 years of ministry in prisons and churches throughout the United States, Linda’s heart has remained fixed on one goal: to share the life-changing love of God.

Terry Meeuwsen—God began preparing Terry for her current role as co-host of the internationally-televised “The 700 Club” through her reign as Miss America 1973 and through personal, heart-breaking circumstances. As God began to heal her broken heart, He opened doors for her to share the power of God’s love through music, television, books, and personal interactions with people around the world.

Dennis Jernigan—A perfect complement to Linda and Terry, Dennis joins us for a night of worship and ministry. His songs are familiar to churches around the world, and through his message we have come to know the heart of the Father. With grace, passion, and vulnerability, Dennis shares the Father heart of God.

Stephanie Seefeldt—Our worship leader throughout the conference, Stephanie’s gift of bringing people into the presence of God is evident—whether at churches and retreats or with Anne Graham Lotz at the “Just Give Me Jesus” conferences.

Breakout Session Speakers

Kathleen Bojanowski—“Healing for the Nations”

Kathy has been teaching at churches, retreats, and meetings since 1980, including teaching on Wisconsin Christian radio station WKSH. Kathy is director and founder of For His Glory Bible College in Pewaukee, Wisconsin. In 1993, Kathy received a call from God to go to the nations. Since then, she has been to Israel, Russia, China, and Kyrgyzstan. With a heart for world missions, Kathy leads teams on short missions trips and loves to ignite the same fire in other hearts.

Lynda Elliott—“Invitation To Healing”

Our minds and bodies carry the marks of our painful experiences, but God is eager to heal us! However, most emotional and physical healing does not simply “happen” in answer to prayer; there is a process. We, as well as God, have a part to play. From over 25 years’ experience as a counselor, Lynda will teach us how to engage with God in the process. Lynda is a social worker, author, and conference speaker from Little Rock, Arkansas. She is author of The Counsel Of a Friend and Invitation To Healing and also founded the recovery program for Dorcas House, a home for battered women. Her specialties are recovery from childhood abuse, healing from depression, and the process of life changes.

Nancy Grisham—“Knowing God’s Love”

This session will focus on identifying and overcoming some of the hindrances to experiencing the reality of God’s love for us. For many people, Christians included, knowing God’s love is sometimes very difficult. We can know about it, read about it, talk about it, and teach about it—while our hearts ache to experience an intimacy with God that only His love can bring. We will explore knowing and receiving God’s love. Nancy is Assistant Director at the Billy Graham Institute of Strategic Evangelism at Wheaton College in Wheaton, Illinois, where she teaches evangelism and discipleship.

Diana Keough—“Forgiveness and Restoration”

Diana will share her journey of forgiveness as it relates to the pain of losing both parents to AIDS. Diana is a freelance writer whose work appears regularly in The (Cleveland) Plain Dealer, Ohio’s largest metro newspaper. Her work is also frequently heard on National Public Radio’s (NPR) “All Things Considered” and “Morning Edition” through their local affiliate, WKSU, 89.7 FM. Diana is also a member of Parkside Church, where she serves on their Women’s Ministry team.

Heather Hyatte Kinchlow—“The Call to Worship Through a Struggle”

Heather will minister on the choice of worship through personal adversity, worship as a battle weapon, how worship heals the inner man, and the sweet communion of the sons of God with the Lord through worship. Heather is a spirit-led praise and worship leader at the Road to Emmaus Church in Virginia Beach, Virginia. She desires to strengthen the body of Christ to mature worship and to maintain the reality of Jesus Christ in all venues. Heather is the founder and director of “Bridges 2000,” a youth-empowerment program designed to challenge both intellectual and spiritual preeminence. She is also a junior high school mathematics instructor at Alliance Christian School in Portsmouth, Virginia.

David Martin—“Christian, Be Free to Celebrate Your Sexuality”

The church is full of many who are sexually broken and in need of God’s healing touch. This session will examine the reasons why and the blessed freedom Christ offers to His children. David has more than 25 years’ experience in church pastoral ministry and professional counseling ministry; currently he is founding pastor of GENESIS Community Church in the Chesapeake, Virginia, area—a church whose mission is to “bind the brokenhearted” (Isaiah 61). He is also a retreat and seminar speaker for singles, married couples, and lay counselors and has worked with Rapha and another Christian counseling agency.

Chandra Moyer—“A Heart’s Cry”

From personal experience, Chandra is aware of struggles unique to military wives and families. More importantly, she knows how Almighty God can heal a broken heart ravaged by sexual and ritual abuse. Chandra professes that only Jesus can mend a shattered heart and take what Satan meant for evil and turn it around for good and His glory! After graduating from Norfolk State University, Chandra went to Fort Hood, Texas, as a commissioned officer—where she served 13 years of active and reserve service. Chandra has shared her testimony through Public Radio broadcasts, Dutch TV, and local news and with state legislators, Protestant Women of the Chapel USA, Concerned Women for America, and churches in the Philippines.

Laura and Jerry Qualls—“Wounded Parent, Broken Child”

The Qualls’ ministry is one of compassion for people who are hurting or for those who just need to be reminded of biblical truths and hope in Christ. Together, they host “From The Heart,” a weekly radio program on KLOV, 90.7 FM, in Norfolk, Virginia. They also conduct “St. Peter’s Steps To Love” and other marriage and family enrichment seminars in the U.S. and abroad. Married 37 years, they have three grown children and four grandchildren. Jerry is the senior pastor at Glad Tidings Church in Norfolk. He is also the host for a local radio show, “Heart To Heart,” a live daily call-in counseling program on WPMH, 1010 AM. Jerry has ministered for more than 37 years in seven churches in different parts of the country and has been the founder and director of two counseling centers. Laura is in full-time ministry with her husband. She is experienced in church leadership, inspirational speaking, and teaching the Word of God.

Glenda Revell—“Glenda’s Story”

By the mercy and grace of our Sovereign God, Glenda survived a childhood filled with horrifying abuse, emerging with an amazing story of hope and triumph. Glenda never saw herself as a victim; rather, she recognized the loving hand of God drawing her to Himself through her circumstances. “This story of hope is an amazing account of our merciful Savior, Who brings light out of darkness, joy out of sorrow, and peace out of pain,” says Linda Strom. Today, Glenda is a dynamic and captivating speaker, offering inspiration and hope to women with “broken” pasts. She has been a guest on Elisabeth Elliot’s radio program “Gateway to Joy” and is a speaker for the women’s ministries of Moody Bible Institute. Glenda has authored two books, Glenda’s Story: Led by Grace and With Love From a Mother’s Heart.

Tom Sharp— Breakout Session #1: “Building Better Boundaries”

Do you have trouble saying “no”? Do you take better care of others than you do yourself? Do you ever withhold the truth because you’re afraid of hurting someone’s feelings? Do you find yourself being “over-responsible” for the lives of others and cleaning up messes that you didn’t make? This session will bring a clear understanding of God’s perspective of appropriate boundaries; help you define and identify personal boundaries that bring closeness, safety, and protection when needed; and provide specific tools for setting healthy boundaries—allowing you to effectively use your God given personal power.

Breakout Session #2: “Shame OFF Me”

This session focuses on shame’s devastating effect on identity, its impact on intimacy, how it influences mate selection, and how it impairs parenting skills. The “sins of the fathers and mothers” don’t have to be passed to the third and fourth generations! Guidelines include stopping the cycle of shame and restoring personal identity while enhancing intimacy.

Tom is the Pastor of Recovery at Capo Beach Calvary Chapel, Capistrano Beach, California—with a weekly teaching ministry that equips and encourages people to overcome life-dominating issues in their personal life, relationships, and spirituality. Tom’s teaching emphasis is to provide practical and pragmatic tools and skills from a Biblically-sound and psychologically-balanced perspective. Tom has a Master’s degree in Marriage and Family Therapy from Fuller Theological Seminary and spent five years with Minirth-Meier New Life Clinics as part of their in-patient hospital staff.

Mary Stocking—“Healing the Wounded Heart”

As artist, Mary has over 10 years of facilitating workshops for the creative heart—and learned how individual this work is between God and each participant. She listens for words of instruction from the Holy Spirit that make a safe and blessed place for the work to begin—and then yields to Him. It is a time of personal discovery and prayer with one’s Father-Creator. Mary’s breakout session participants will use clay to shape a blessing cup, which will be likened to the purpose and value of one’s body. There will also be time for sharing and prayer for healing during this session.

Laurie Watter—“Healing in the Potter’s Hands”

Laurie surrendered her life to Christ in 1995 at the first “Healing For Your Heart” conference and has become an active member of the Discipleship Unlimited team. In addition to ministering in prisons, Laurie has shared the power of Jesus to heal wounded hearts in churches, at conferences, and on city streets. She is a graduate of the Urban Bible Training Center in Milwaukee. In this breakout, you will hear how Laurie’s journey in Christ has taken her through seasons of healing, which included facing her past. As a Christian, what do you do when your past invades the present? How do you overcome the fear of facing the pain? Where does God fit in, and how can He possibly bring new life to areas that have been long devastated?
